Alpha Pi Chapter at Washington & Jefferson College

Produced by Chase Sloane & Mitch Kenney

Alpha Pi

Overview

In this edition of the Alpha Pi Chapter newsletter, we're excited to highlight the many ways our brothers at Washington & Jefferson College have made an impact both on and off campus. This edition, you'll find a recap of the Spring 2026 semester, an introduction to our new members, a highlight of our newly graduated alumni, and details on upcoming events like the Alpha Pi 5K and Homecoming. We're proud to showcase our brothers' involvement across campus, celebrate their athletic and academic achievements, welcome the newest members of our fraternity family, introduce the chapters own official website, showcase a new platform for future alumni events and shine a spotlight on notable alumni accomplishments.

Chapter Awards

True Merit

True Merit is the highest award attainable from the national organization. It recognizes our accomplishments in philanthropy, brotherhood, recruitment, leadership, community engagement, and communication. Our chapter is extremely proud to bring the award back home and set a standard of excellence for the future.

Excellence in Recruitment

This excellence award recognizes our chapter for exceeding recruitment goals, using chapter builder, and using other recruitment materials.

Excellence in Roadshow

This excellence award recognizes us as being in the top 10 chapters on ATO Roadshow, a platform that shows accomplishments and what is going on within our chapter. We finished the year ranked 5th.

Brother Accomplishments

Zach Lloyd wins multiple PAC championships for diving

Congratulations brother Zach Lloyd for wining the 1m and 3m diving events at the spring PAC championships. Zach won went back to back for both events, winning his freshman and sophomore years. Zach also received PAC Diver of the Year the last two seasons.

Dusman moves to 8th in W&J all-time hurdles

Congratulations to brother Collin Dusman of the Washington and Jefferson Track & Field team for making program history by running the 8th fastest time in the 400 hurdles. Dusman capped off his 2026 track season running the time of 58.00 at the PAC championships, and finishing 6th in the PAC.

Brothers Make Dean's List

Congrats to all of the brothers who made dean's list from Spring 2026! The chapter achieved an impressive 3.349 cumulative GPA!

Jackson Akers and Alex Duing make Men's Tennis All-PAC Honors

Congrats to Jackson Akers and Alex Duing for being named to the PAC Men's Tennis All-PAC Honors. Jackson was named to All-PAC Second Team for doubles and Alex was named to PAC Honorable Mentions for his doubles play as well.

Philanthropy

- In the spring, the Alpha Pi Chapter participated in multiple philanthropy events for sororities and other campus groups, such as Delta Gamma Anchor Splash, KKG Kick For a Cure, Theta's Bump, Set, Kite, and the Special Olympics Polar Plunge
- The Alpha Pi Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega hosted its annual Pickleball tournament for the Second Year
- The Alpha Pi Chapter also held a Philanthropy Poker Tournament
- In total, the chapter raised over $1,700 for the LeMoyne Community Center

Keeping up with Alumni

Anthony Cestaro receives the Walter C. Cooper and E. Ronald Salvitti, M.D., athlete of the year award

Congragulations to Alumni Anthony Cestaro ‘26 for receiving the Walter C. Cooper and E. Ronald Salvitti, M.D., athlete of the year award. He was one of four recently graduated seniors to win the award. Anthony was a standout Track & Field athlete during his time a W&J, setting multiple school records!

Alan Bradstock Running for Congress

Alan Bradstock ‘86 is a proud Washington & Jefferson College and Alpha Tau Omega alumnus. A Desert Storm veteran and retired FBI agent from Western Pennsylvania, Alan has dedicated his career to public service, including time as a U.S. Army aviation officer and leading federal investigations into corruption, terrorism, and violent crime. He now seeks to continue that commitment by running for Congress in Pennsylvania’s 14th District. Alan is also joined by alumni Mike Burroughs ‘86, who is assisting with the campaign. The Official Website of the Alpha Pi Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega

The brothers of the Alpha Pi Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega at Washington & Jefferson College are proud to announce the launch of our official chapter website. This new platform was created to strengthen connections within our extensive alumni network and to provide valuable information for anyone interested in learning more about our brotherhood.

The website features introductions to our current Executive Board and Board of Trustees, highlights the leadership guiding our chapter, and showcases the values that define Alpha Pi. Visitors can explore a photo gallery capturing recent events and milestones, access downloadable PDFs of our Alumni Newsletter, and stay informed through a calendar outlining upcoming alumni gatherings and philanthropy events.

We encourage all brothers, alumni, parents, and friends of the Alpha Pi Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega to visit the website, stay connected, and remain engaged with the continued growth and success of our chapter.

Join CoExperience for Future Events

Brothers,

We are excited to officially introduce CoExperiences to the ATO active member and alumni community.

CoExperiences partners with organizations like ATO to create meaningful, in person experiences that help members connect, strengthen relationships, and stay engaged. Our platform makes it easy to bring people together around shared interests through thoughtfully curated small group experiences, without adding extra lift for chapter or alumni leadership.

Here is how it works at a high level:

- Members complete a short onboarding questionnaire sharing their interests and preferences. Sign up takes about two minutes.
- Our platform matches participants into small groups and invites them to relevant local experiences.
- Members attend, connect, and provide feedback.

Your leadership and visibility will play an important role in making this successful. When chapter and alumni leaders participate, it reinforces the value of connection across the full ATO community and helps set the tone for strong engagement.

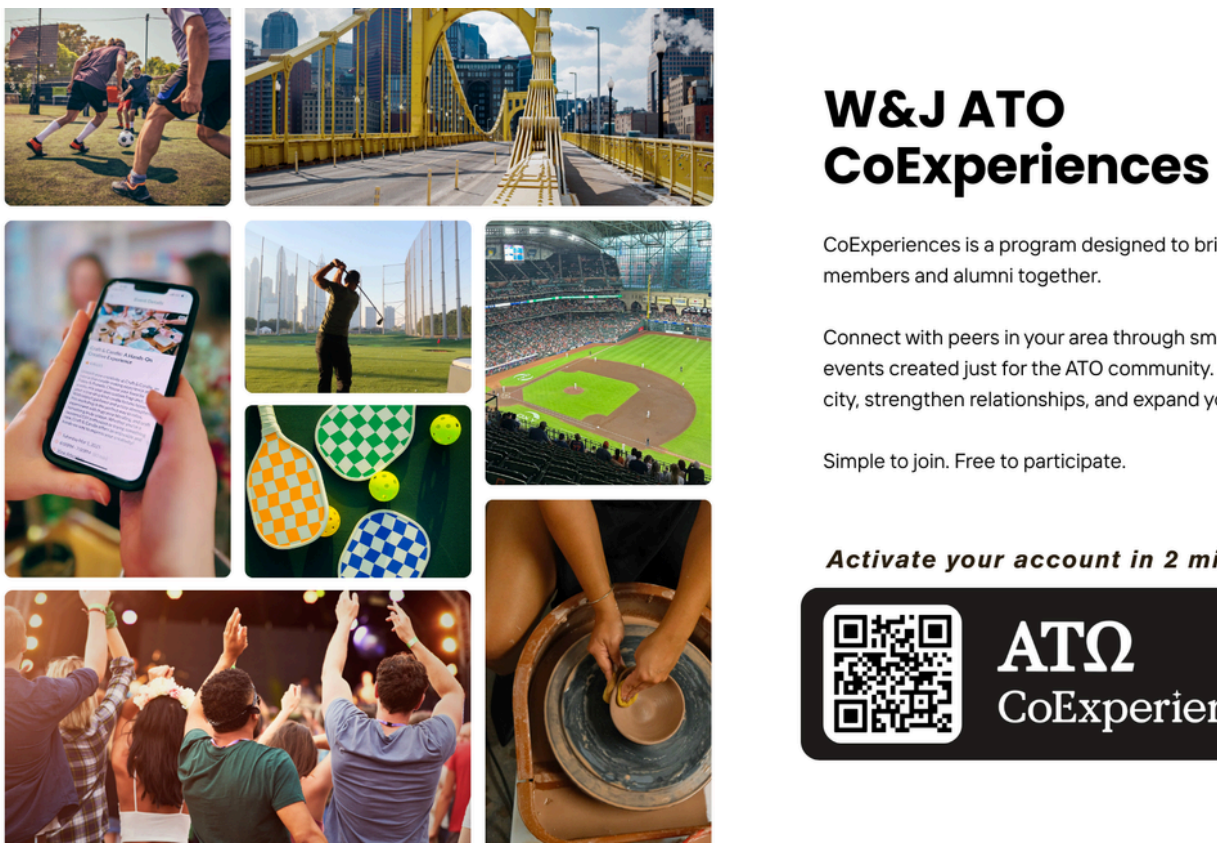

We encourage you to:

- Complete your CoExperiences account activation
- Participate in CoExperiences when invited
- Share the program with your respective communities and encourage sign ups

Go here to get started: https://app.coexperiences.com/

We are looking forward to bringing the ATO community together through shared experiences. Please let us know if you would like a brief overview session for your boards or members.

Best, Connor Robick
